

Information about the Authors

Natalia Kohtamäki – Habilitated doctor, Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law and Administration of the Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński University in Warsaw. Doctoral studies at the interdisciplinary college Global Financial Markets at the Faculty of Law, University of Jena. A graduate of law and international relations from the University of Warsaw and postgraduate studies in comparative law from the Faculty of Law of the University of Bonn (LL.M.). The holder of scholarships granted by prestigious German institutions supporting science including the Max Planck Institute for Public Comparative Law and International Law in Heidelberg, German Bundestag (IPS), and the Stifterverband für die Deutsche Wissenschaft and Stiftung Geld und Währung foundations. The head of two research projects funded by the National Science Center (NCN) and a member of a research team in three German-Polish projects. The author of numerous publications on European administrative law, including monographs in English (Theorising the Legitimacy of EU Regulatory Agencies, Berlin 2019), and German (Die Reform der Bankenaufsicht in der Europäischen Union, Tübingen 2012).

Milan Počuča – PhD, is Full Professor, the Vice Dean for Science, Quality, and Development at the Faculty of Law for Commerce and Judiciary in Novi Sad, and the Vice Chancellor for Science at the University Business Academy in Novi Sad. He is a member of the Committee for the Accreditation of Scientific Research Organizations of the Ministry of Education, Science, and Technological Development of the Republic of Serbia, and the author and co-author of six textbooks, ten monographs, and more than 130 scientific and professional papers published in leading national and international journals and conference proceedings. He is also a project manager on Republic, Provincial, and Municipal projects. He has participated in one European, and several provincial and municipal scientific projects. The total competence index is more than 400 points, with an A-1 scientific researcher status. Citation: 187 (by Google scholar), h-index: 8, and 10-index: 6.

Jelena Matijašević – PhD, is Associate Professor and Dean’s advisor for teaching and extra-curricular matters at the Faculty of Law for Commerce and Judiciary in Novi Sad, at the University Business Academy in Novi Sad. Since 2019, she has been Editor-in-chief of the scientific journal “Law-Theory and Practice”. To date, she has been the Manager and Chief Coordinator of five specialised courses. She participated as a researcher on Republic, Provincial, and Municipal scientific projects, and Erasmus + projects. She is author and co-author of over 200 scientific articles published in leading national and international journals and conference proceedings, two monographs – Criminal Law Regulation of Computer Crime, Economic Crime and one textbook – Criminal Procedural Law, general part. The total competence index is more than 540 points, with an A-1 scientific researcher status. Citation: 192 (by Google scholar), h-index: 8, and 10-index: 5

Joanna Aleksandra Radowicz – PhD, is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Management and Computer Modelling at the Kielce University of Technology. A graduate of the Jagiellonian University and the Jan Kochanowski University of Kielce in the field of political sciences, she has also completed postgraduate studies in sociology at Collegium Civitas in Warsaw. She is the holder of a PhD in political sciences at the Institute of Political Studies at the Polish Academy of Sciences. Her scientific and research interests focus on multiculturalism, migrations, Scottish national identity, Scottish separatism, and UK policy. Since 2014, she has been an Erasmus+ Faculty Coordinator.

Violetta Gul-Rechlewicz – Habilitated Doctor in political science, and an Assistant Professor at the Jan Kochanowski University of Kielce, the Faculty of Law and Social Sciences. Research interests: European immigration policy, ethnic minority rights, and intercultural communication. Notable publications: Science, Politics, Integration. Controversies around Dutch Immigration Policy (2017), The Participation of NGOs in Dutch Policy Towards Refugees. The Role of VluchtelingenWerk Nederland (2017) and co-author of Civilizations: Conflict or Cooperation? Reflections on the Theory of Samuel Huntington (2020).

Lucyna Rajca – The author is a Habilitated Doctor in political science, and a professor at the Institute of International Relations and Public Policies of the Jan Kochanowski University of Kielce. Her research interests focus on local government, public management, democracy, and on the integration of immigrants. She is the author of around 80 scientific articles, four monographs, as well as being the scientific editor of one monograph.

Iryna Gerlach (Yeleyko) – Candidate of Economical Sciences (PhD), Associate Professor of the Department of International Economic Relations, Faculty of International Relations, Ivan Franko National University of Lviv, Ukraine. Research programs and scholarships: Private Higher School of Business and Administration (Warsaw, Poland); Jagiellonian University, Lane Kirkland Scholarship Program (Krakow, Poland); Jagiellonian University, Queen Jadwiga grant (Krakow, Poland); George Washington University, The William and Helen Petrach Endowment for Ukrainian Exchanges and Programs (Washington DC, USA); The University of the Algarve, Erasmus Mundus Mobility Programme (Faro, Portugal); and The University of Cadiz, Erasmus + Staff Mobility (Cadiz, Spain). An expert in the international labour migration of Ukrainians, Ukrainian immigrants in the European labour market, the Migration Policy of the EU, EU-Ukraine relations, Cross-cultural Management, and Human Resources Management. The author of more than 50 scientific publications.

Lilia Ukraynets – Doctor of Economics, Professor of the Department of International Economic Relations, Faculty of International Relations, Ivan Franko National University of Lviv, Ukraine. Research programs and scholarships: The George Washington University, The William and Helen Petrach Endowment for Ukrainian Exchanges and Programs (Washington DC, USA). An expert in Chinese economic expansion into developing countries, the international labour migration of Chinese entrepreneurs in Ukraine and developing countries, Chinese Outward FDI into developing countries, and China-Ukraine relations. The author of more than 60 scientific publications.

Christos Nikas – Professor at the Department of International and European Studies of the University of Macedonia-Greece. He has studied in Greece (wherein he obtained his B.A.), Belgium (obtaining his Diploma and Masters), and the U.K (his Ph.D.) He has taught in both Greek and British Universities and has worked as a specialist for the International Organization for Migration and the European Social and Economic Commission. His published work (comprising 5 books and 54 articles) focuses on international economics, European economic integration, migration, and the Greek economy.

Dimitrios Aspasios – A Post Doctoral Researcher at The Hellenic National Defence General Staff in Strategic Studies “Thucydides”, in the Department of International and European Studies of the University of Macedonia-Greece in the field of strategic studies, asymmetric threats and migration. The holder of a Ph.D. & M.A. in the Department of Balkan, Slavic, and Oriental Studies of the University of Macedonia-Greece and Master of Laws in Criminal Law and Procedure in the University of Sunderland, U.K. His research interests include the migration phenomenon, with special attention on the case studies of Greece and Albania, transnationality, international politics, and security. He has published articles in Greek and foreign journals and books. His recent book publication: D. Aspasios, Migration and Security. The Evolution of the Characteristics of Asymmetric Threats in Greece (Metanastafsi kai Asphalla. Exellxi ton Asimmetron Aylon stin Ellada), Macedonia University Press, Thessaloniki 2020.

Mirella Kurkowska – PhD, has been a lecturer at the Centre for Europe, Warsaw University since 2004. Dr Kurkowska specialises in the history of ideas, customs, and mentality (with a particular emphasis on those of the 19th century), the issues of mass culture and European cinematography, as well as the didactics of history. Lately, she has focussed her research on the mutual dependencies between film and history to reflect on the role of a film as a source of knowledge regarding the past and present, the mechanisms behind cultural memory, the stereotypes of historical consciousness of a society, as well as the specificity of European culture and its transformation over the last 100 years.