

Information about Authors (According to the order of articles)

Informacje o Autorach (według kolejności artykułów)

Bogdan Góralczyk – Associate Professor, he is a director of Centre for Europe, University of Warsaw. Political scientist and sinologist by education. Former diplomat and ambassador to some Asian countries. Prolific writer, mainly in Polish, but also in English and Hungarian. Specialising in Asian (China, East Asia, South-East Asia), European (the EU, Hungary, Central Europe) and global affairs. Recently published, in Polish, a seminal volume on 40-th anniversary of China's Reform Programme, entitled Great Rejuvenation. Chinese Transformation and Its Consequences.

Ewa Latoszek – Full Professor at Warsaw School of Economics (SGH). Fields of interest: European integration, the EU policies, Development Economics and International Economics. Involved in numerous national and international research. She has also been involved in many national and international research and educational projects including Jean Monnet projects. In 2011/12 a Project Coordinator of the EUintegRATIO (the 7th Framework Programme). In 2013- granted the JM Chair Holder. In 2016 granted the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence at the Warsaw School of Economics (CEWSE). Since 2014 the Member of EC Advisory Groups of Experts under Horizon 2020. Main functions: President of PECSA – Polish European Community Studies Association, Member of a Steering Committee of the Research Alliance for Development, the World Bank (RAD), Member of Polish Academy of Sciences, Deputy Dean at Warsaw School of Economics, Member of ECSA Board. Author & co-author of over 200 publications.

Wanda Dugiel – She is an Associate Professor at the Collegium, of Socio-Economic Warsaw School of Economics, Poland. She deals with the issues of broadly understood international economic relations, international economics, in particular integration processes on the European conti-ment. She is author of the book The World Trade System – New Challenges and Reforms, nominated in 2014 for the Kronenberg Foundation Award for a special contribution to the development of science in the sphere of economics and finance.

Léonce Bekemans – Professor, Jean Monnet Professor ad personam at the University of Padua (It). He is a visiting professor at the Catholic University Sacro Cuore of Milan and the Sophia University Institute in Loppiano (It). He is also the President of Europeahuis “Ryckvelde” in Bruges (B). He collaborates with various European organisations and is a member of numerous scientific committees dealing with value-related European issues

Olga Barburska – Ph.D. She is an Assistant Professor at the Centre for Europe, University of Warsaw. Specialist in International Relations in the field of European Studies, especially in the EU’s foreign policy (including the EU’s Eastern policy); political and social dimension of European integration; history of European integration. Author, co-author and editor of over 50 publications; coordinator and participant of various research projects.

Martin Dahl – Ph.D. in the field of Political Science. He also completed studies in Economics and Psychology. Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Management at the Lazarski University. Author of numerous scientific publications on international relations, ordoliberalism and the migration crisis. Lecturer at national and foreign universities.

Yaman Kouli – Ph.D., he is an economic historian. Funded by the Alexander von Humboldt-Foundation, he is currently working as a researcher at the Unité Mixte de Recherche “Sorbonne, Identités, relations internationales et civilisation de l’Europe (Sirice)” in Paris. His fields of research are Poland’s economic history during the 20th century, knowledge-based economy, European integration and Europe’s post-1945 economy. His most recent monograph is Dolny Śląsk 1936–1956. Szybki rozwój i nieudana odbudowa. Wpływ wiedzy na produkcję przemysłową [Lower Silesia 1936–1956. Fast development and failed reconstruction. The effect of knowledge on industrial production], Warsaw: University Press, 2018.

Miklós Somai – Professor, Senior Research Fellow of the Research Group on European Integration in the Institute of World Economics at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Hungary. His research field of interest is the European integration process (especially common budgetary and agricultural policies) and most recently the European disintegration tendencies (e.g. Brexit), as well as various aspects of the French and Slovenian economy.

Artur Adamczyk – Ph.D. He is an Assistant Professor at the Centre for Europe, University of Warsaw. Editor-in-chief of the scientific quarterly “Studia Europejskie – Studies in European Affairs” Main fields of research interest: institutional system of the European Union, Foreign and Security Policy of the EU (Mediterranean and Balkan dimension). Visiting Professor at many European universities; participant of various research projects. Author, co-author and editor of over 50 publications

Agnieszka Kłos – Ph.D. She is an Assistant Professor at Warsaw School of Economics, Collegium of Socio-Economics. Her research interests include EU regional development policies and budget, public finances (particularly transfer of funds from EU budget) and implementation of EU budget in Poland. She specializes also in implementation of projects financed by EU. Her professional experience includes public administration and financial sector.

Willem Molle – emeritus Professor at the School of Economics, Erasmus University Rotterdam (NL). His research and publications concern European and worldwide economic and social policy issues. He has always had a particular interest in cohesion policy. Willem has also broad experience in policy advice. He has for most of his career been associated to ECORYS Research and Consulting in senior roles.

Magdalena Proczek – Associate Professor at Warsaw School of Economics (SGH). Her research interests include European studies and international relations. Frequent author, co-author and editor of academic articles, monographs, reviews, etc. She has also received and coordinated many grants. She has organised a lot of conferences and national and international seminars related to European Union studies. She has collaborated with international organisations and has worked on many Polish universities. She supervised more than 220 master and bachelor theses. She has received the Warsaw School of Economics Rector’s award eleven times, as well as numerous other awards as Minister of National Education and Sport team award, also for her doctoral and habilitation dissertation. Member of many professional bodies and organisations.

Ewa Osuch-Rak – Ph.D. Candidate at the Collegium of Socio-Economics, Warsaw School of Economics (SGH); project manager at the Polish

Academy of Sciences and its spin out company, Adaptronica. Author of articles and co-editor of a monography: “Facing the Challenges in the European Union. Re-thinking EU Education and Research for Smart and Inclusive Growth” (2015). Beneficiary of “Young Scientists’ Research Grants”, funded by the Polish Ministry of Science and Higher Education (2015). Visiting Scholar at Haas School of Business, University of California, Berkeley (2013). Laureate of 2nd Degree Team Prize of the Rector of the Warsaw School of Economics for scientific achievement (2015, 2016 and 2017).

Joanna Surafa – Ph.D. Candidate at Warsaw School of Economics (WSE), Collegium of Socio-Economics, M.A. in Applied Linguistics from University of Warsaw, postgraduate degree in Banking from WSE. Areas of expertise: migration crisis in Europe, EU neighbourhood policy, EU development cooperation, Sub-Saharan Africa, EU institutions & international organisations.

Małgorzata Dziembała – Associate Professor at the University of Economics in Katowice, Faculty of Economics. She is the director of the Postgraduate Study in Foreign Trade. Her research focuses on the European Union regional policy and competitiveness of the regions, international cooperation of the regions, including cross-border cooperation and innovation policy. She publishes extensively in the field of her interest and she is the author, co-author of articles, chapters in monographs – more than 80 publications. Her academic teaching refers to the issue of international economics, international business, management of EU funds, EU cohesion policy.

Aleksandra Balkiewicz-Żerek – Ph.D. Candidate at SGH Warsaw School of Economics. She is interested in exploring the role of institutional environment in the internationalisation processes of companies. Certified project manager with more than 10 years of professional experience in market research and management consulting industry. Specialized in macroeconomic research and public policy management. Experienced evaluator of EU-funded programmes.

Ayo Eso – presently a Doctorate Student in finance with a focus on Financial Inclusion, Lead City University, Ibadan, Nigeria. He is a finance and technology consultant and CEO At 3Consulting. He has vast finance and technology experience spanning 30 years, including a lecturing stint at the University of Greenwich Business School. He has held different roles in corporate banking, product marketing and Chief information officer of a bank amongst others. He has a Bachelors degree in Economics and a Masters degree in Finance and Investment.

Anna Masłoń-Oracz – Ph.D. She is an Assistant Professor at Warsaw School of Economics and lecturer at the University of Warsaw. She is a political scientist and economist. Member of the International Women's Forum, and Vice-President of Polish European Community Study Association. She is also involved in international projects in many countries in Africa concerning women empowerment, development of SME's and regional innovation system to enhance the role and importance of regional innovation systems (RIS) in economic development and growth.

Aleksandra Szczerba-Zawada – Ph.D. in the EU law, Head of the Chair of Administrative Science at the Faculty of Administration and National Security of the Jacob of Paradies University in Gorzów Wielkopolski and Visiting Professor at the University of Bari Aldo Moro (Italy). She specializes in EU Law and Anti-discrimination Law. She is an external expert of the European Institute for Gender Equality. Her research interests include the principle of gender equality, EU Internal Market, AFSJ and CFSP.

Angela Maria Romito – Adjunct Professor of European Union Law at the Department of Political Science, University of Bari Aldo Moro. LL.M. University of Pittsburgh, School of Law (2001). Member of the Editorial Committee of the reviews "Studi sull'integrazione europea" (Cacucci Editore, Bari) and "Sud in Europa" (Cacucci Editore, Bari). Professor of European Union Law and European Union Competition Law at Department of Political Science, University of Bari Aldo Moro. Author of several articles about European Union Law and Private International Law.

Tatjana Muravska – Professor at the University of Latvia. Her research is focused on issues related to social and economic issues in European integration. Since 2000, she has been Director of the Centre for European and Transition Studies and Director of Doctoral School for European Integration and Baltic Sea Region Studies; Jean Monnet Chair ad personam and academic coordinator of Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence.

Sergejs Stacenko – Ph.D. in Public Administration and works a Senior Researcher at the University of Latvia, Centre for European and Transition Studies; has experience in research in EU funded projects including Horizon-2020 and a long-standing experience in working in different capacities for the Ministry of Justices and Ministry of Economy and, Minister for Education and Science of the Republic of Latvia.

Zane Zeibote – Ph.D. in Regional Economics, M.A. in Economic Policy Management, McGill University, Canada. Since 2010 works as the Project Manager at the University of Latvia working with for Horizon-2020, Interreg, ERSAMUS+ and other projects. Over 20 years' experience in economic policy management and international relations acquired working for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and for the President of Latvia.