

Information about the Authors

Carl Philipp Gierlich – Postgraduate degree at Johannes-Gutenberg-University in Mainz. Research interests include European Integration and European public affairs. Currently holds a position at an EU Liaison Office in Brussels, Belgium.

Rafał J. Wilhelm Riedel – Professor at the Institute of Political Science and Administration, University of Opole and guest fellow at TU Chemnitz. The holder of a PhD in political science from the Silesian University of Katowice, and whose research interests include European Union institutions and policies, and the theories of European integration and Europeanisation processes.

Natalia Sienko – PhD Student, Institute of International Studies of the University of Wrocław. Currently holds lectures on the Theory of Social and Economic Conflicts and Security Policy. She is a co-author (with Anna Jagiełło-Szostak and Tomasz Szyszlak) of the monograph: Cultural Conflicts and Security. Ethnic Minorities – Indigenous Peoples – Refugees in the Post-Communist Space and an author of many articles in domestic scientific journals. Her main areas of academic interest are international policy in the region of Central and Eastern Europe, armed conflict in post-Soviet countries and political psychopathology. Currently, she is a Secretary of the Polish yearbook of “Wschodnioznawstwo” which has been published since 2007 by the Section of Eastern Studies at the Institute of International Studies at the University of Wrocław.

Agnieszka Radek – PhD candidate at the Collegium of Management and Finance, of Warsaw School of Economics (SGH) at the program of finance. Her particular interests of scientific research include the European Union, in particular the development of the banking union and single supervisory mechanism, and the harmonization of common provisions in EU financial markets.

Mikołaj Rakusa-Suszczewski – PhD, Associate Professor at the Centre for Europe, University of Warsaw. A sociologist and political philosopher, and a graduate of the Institute of Sociology at the University of Warsaw and Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales in Paris. Co-founder of the Social Movements Analysis Team Foundation (ZARS). Member of the International Sociological Association (ISA) and the Polish Sociological Association. He conducts research on the history of ideas, the theory of social movements and socio-cultural changes in Europe, in particular the problems of political and economic populism. Author of many research projects, qualitative sociological surveys and numerous scientific articles published in Polish and Foreign Journals. He recently published a book entitled: The Shadow of Radicalism; the notion of radicalism in the light of the theory of social movements.

Stanislaw Lipiec – lawyer, political scientist, and historian associated with the Jagiellonian University and the University of Oslo. The writer of a doctoral dissertation on the provision of legal services on the European Union market. An expert of the European Commission (EACEA), and trainee of the European Commission (internal market). He is interested in legal services in Europe, professional qualifications, and changes on the European market.

Dorota Heidrich – PhD, DSc, Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Political Science and International Studies of the University of Warsaw, who earned her PhD in Humanities in the field of Political Science from the University of Warsaw in 2004. Her research areas include: forced migration (with special attention to IDPs), international criminal justice, transitional justice, international organisations (governmental and non-governmental). Selected recent publications: D. Heidrich, Mechanizmy sprawiedliwości okresu przejściowego w stosunkach międzynarodowych: studium przypadku Kosowa, Warsaw 2019; D. Heidrich, J. Nakonieczna-Bartosiewicz, Analiza wpływu i znaczenia aktorów transnarodowych poprzez model bumerangu: studium przypadku działań Amnesty International wobec kryzysu migracyjnego w Europie, “Stosunki Międzynarodowe-International Relations”, no. 4/2017; The Legacy of Crimes and Crises. Transitional Justice, Domestic Change and the Role of the International Community, eds. K. Bachmann, D. Heidrich, “Studies in Political Transition Series”, vol. 5, Frankfurt am Main, Berlin, Bern, Bruxelles, New York, Oxford, Wien 2016; The role of regional organizations in the interpretation and implementation of the Responsibility to Protect. The case of the African Union and its involvement in the Libyan Crisis, “Stosunki Międzynarodowe – International Relations”, vol. 51, no. 3/2015.

Justyna Nakonieczna-Bartosiewicz – PhD, Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Political Science and International Studies of the University of Warsaw. Earned her PhD in Humanities in the field of Political Science from the University of Warsaw in 2006. Her research interests include the roles and activities of non-state actors in international politics, the international order, and transnationality, with special attention on international migration through the prism of international politics and global challenges. Selected recent publications: J. Nakonieczna-Bartosiewicz, Migration, Right-Wing Parties and Democracy: Case of Poland, "Eurasian Studies Quarterly", no. 10/2020; D. Heidrich, J. Nakonieczna-Bartosiewicz, Współczesne wyzwania w zakresie ochrony uchodźców w Unii Europejskiej i w Australii, in: Polityka migracyjna w obliczu współczesnych wyzwań. Teoria i praktyka, eds. H. Chałupczak, M. Lesińska, E. Pogorzała, T. Browarek, Lublin 2018; D. Heidrich, J. Nakonieczna-Bartosiewicz, Analiza wpływu i znaczenia aktorów transnarodowych poprzez model bumerangu: studium przypadku działań Amnesty International wobec kryzysu migracyjnego w Europie, "Stosunki Międzynarodowe-International Relations", no. 4/2017.

Guranda Chelidze – PhD in History, an Affiliated Professor at the School of Humanities and Social Science (CSH) of the Caucasus University. She is a specialist in the modern and contemporary history of the countries of Europe and America, and is academic head of the BA program of European Studies at CSH (<https://cu.edu.ge/en/schoolss/csh/about-us-csh/csh-lecturers>). Guranda Chelidze received her PhD from Ivane Janakhishvili Tbilisi State University in 1998. Since 1996 she has been employed by the Ivane Janakhishvili Tbilisi State University and Caucasus University. She holds regular lectures on European Integration, EU Enlargement, History of Europe and Political Science. Guranda Chelidze is a coordinator and expert of the Caucasus University Erasmus+ Jean Monnet project "Triangle Effect of European Studies at Schools" (TEESS), expert of the Caucasus University Erasmus+ Jean Monnet project "Legal Face of European Union" (LFEU). Guranda Chelidze is a participant of numerous scientific conferences in Georgia and abroad, has had 37 scientific articles published in Georgia and abroad. Last year, as co-author, she published European Association Process in Georgia – Handbook for History and Civic Education Teachers.

Elisabed Machitidze – PhD in History, an Associated Professor at the School of Humanities and Social Science (CSH) of the Caucasus University, a specialist in modern and contemporary history of Turkey. She has 30 years of academic and scientific activity experience in higher education schools. Elisabed Machitidze received her PhD from Ivane Janakhishvili Tbilisi State University in 1996. Since 1990 she has been employed by the Ivane Janakhishvili Tbilisi State University and Caucasus University. She holds regular lectures on the History of Turkey, the Modern and Contemporary History of Turkey, Turkish-Georgian relations, and A History of the Middle East. Elisabed Machitidze has been a participant of 50 scientific conferences in Georgia and abroad, and has had 56 scientific articles about modern Turkish history published in Georgia, Turkey, and Azerbaijan.

Krystyna Gomółka – Full Professor of social science, at the Department of Eastern Studies, the Faculty of Management and Economics, Gdańsk University of Technology. She is the author of 18 books and 260 scientific articles about cross-border cooperation, the labour market, the employment of women, youth civic participation, and political and economic transformation in post-Soviet States. The author has published papers and books in English, Russian, and Polish. As co-author, her most recent book was published in 2020 entitled, Youth Civic Participation in The South Baltic Region. Example of Lithuania, Poland and Sweden and Bezpośrednie Inwestycje Zagraniczne. Świat – Europa – Kaukaz – Polska. Krystyna Gomółka has been the Head of three international research projects financed by the following programs: Poland–Russia, Norwegian Financial Mechanism, and Interreg, South Baltic.