

Information About the Authors

Danuta Kabat-Rudnicka – Dr rer. pol. habil. Dr iur. – political scientist and lawyer, university professor and Jean Monnet professor at the Cracow University of Economics, College of Economics, Finance and Law; she studied economics, political science, and law in Cracow (University of Economics and Jagiellonian University), Tilburg, Hamburg, Leuven, Basel, Orleans, and Rome (La Sapienza). She has lectured at foreign universities under the Erasmus program, summer school (UCLan Cyprus campus), and an international seminar (Moscow). She is a reviewer for IRD and AJPSIR and a member of PECSA, UACES, ISA, and CES. Her research interests focus on issues such as federalism, constitutionalism, international law, European law, European Union politics, political systems, international organisations, international relations and theory, and international security.

Justyna Pierewoj – a graduate of law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Bialystok, and a graduate of BA and MA studies in international relations at the Faculty of History and Sociology at the University of Bialystok, and a doctoral candidate at the Department of Public International Law and the European Faculty of Law at the University of Bialystok. She is currently preparing her doctoral dissertation under the scientific supervision of prof. zw. dr hab. Maciej Perkowski. She is an active participant in international and national scientific conferences. She has a long-standing scientific interest in issues of international security, including health, pharmaceutical, and food security. Her research interests also relate to human trafficking, health protection regulation, the pharmaceutical market, and lobbying.

Rafał Riedel – Full Professor at the Institute of Political Science and Administration at Opole University, Poland, and a guest lecturer at the University of St. Gallen (Switzerland). He is also co-director of the team in the “OrgIntCEE – The <Missing Link>: Examining organized interests in post-communist policy-making” project, held by the University of Opole and the University of Konstanz.

Emilia Szyszkowska – a Ph.D. student in the field of political science at the Warsaw School of Economics. She is also a member of the team in the “OrgIntCEE – The <Missing Link>: Examining organized interests in post-communist policy-making” project, held by the University of Opole and the University of Konstanz. Her scientific interests are public affairs, public policies with a special focus on the healthcare sector as well as stakeholder groups and their political impact.

Katarzyna Strąk – a PhD Doctor of Law, and a researcher at the Institute of Law Studies at the Polish Academy of Sciences. Her research interests comprise European Union Law, including the Area of Freedom, Security, and Justice (EU immigration and asylum policies), fundamental rights, the internal market, EU Citizenship, and application of Polish Law on Aliens. She has been involved in evaluations for the European Commission in Horizon 2020 (Secure Societies – Protecting the Freedom and Security of Europe and its Citizens) as well as in NAWA programmes (Narodowa Agencja Wymiany Akademickiej – the National Agency for Academic Exchange). She has also had experience as an external peer reviewer for The LEaDing Fellows Postdocs Programme (The Netherlands, 2019), and as an ad hoc reviewer for the Polish Review of International and European Law and the Polish Yearbook of International Law.

Elina Graudiņa – a lecturer at the Department of Political Science and Department of Humanities at the Rīga Stradiņš University. She holds an MA in Regional Policy and Public Administration. Currently, she is continuing her PhD in Political Science at the Rīga Stradiņš University. In her academic career, she has focused on issues concerning education, youth, civil society, democracy, and political activism (political participation, ethics in politics, and the integration of European values). At the Department of Humanities, she is more focused on philosophical anthropology. Her research interests focus on public policy, and youth-based political participation. She is a participant in the national research project “Values in Action: the Promotion of Responsible, Secure, and Educated Civil Society in Latvia through Research and Model Development”. She has worked as an intern with Krišjānis Arturs Kariņš, a former Member of the European Parliament, and current Prime Minister of the Republic of Latvia.

Przemysław Dubel – Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Management at the University of Warsaw, Rector's Plenipotentiary for Strategic Projects, and Director of the Centre for Business Projects and Consulting at the Faculty of Management of the University of Warsaw. Dr Dubel is an expert in project implementation co-financed by European Structural Funds. In his academic activity, he specialises in regional development management with particular emphasis on the impact of projects funded by the European programmes on the dynamisation of the European market. He is the author and co-author of numerous academic publications dedicated to the aforementioned issues. Dr Dubel is also the author of several dozen expert opinions and is also an active consultant.

Krystyna Gomółka – Full Professor of social science at the Department of Eastern Studies, the Faculty of Management and Economics, Gdańsk University of Technology. She is the author of 18 books and 260 scientific articles about cross-border cooperation, the labour market, the employment of women, youth-based civic participation, and political and economic transformation in post-Soviet States. She has published papers and books in the English, Russian, and Polish languages. As co-author, her most recent book was published in 2020 entitled, “Youth Civic Participation in The South Baltic Region. Example of Lithuania, Poland and Sweden” and “Bezpośrednie Inwestycje Zagraniczne. Świat–Europa–Kaukaz–Polska”. Krystyna Gomółka has been the Head of three international research projects financed by the following programs: Poland – Russia, Norwegian Financial Mechanism, and Interreg, South Baltic.

Petro Kurmaiev – D.Sc.habil. (Economics), Assistant Professor in Economics, and founder of the Independent Agency for Education Quality Evaluating (Ukraine). He is an expert at the National Research Foundation of Ukraine. He has been the leader and participant of research projects and grant programs. He is the author and co-author of over 90 research articles. His research interests include entrepreneurship, the economics of education, and the labour market.

Salihe Salihu – a graduate of and whose PhD was obtained at the University of Tetovo. Currently, she works as a researcher at the Assembly of Kosovo in the Department of Research. She has worked as lecturer at the University of Prishtina and many Colleges in Kosovo. She is the president of the Kosovar-Swedish Scientific Institution. The author of many articles in both the Albanian and English languages. She is also the author of two books; “Migration and Nation-State in the Global Epoch”, and “Sovereignty and Legitimacy of the State of Kosovo”.

Faton Shabani – PhD, an Associate Professor at the Faculty of Law, at the University of Tetova (the Republic of North Macedonia). He is the author of five textbooks: Bankruptcy (2021), Business Law (2021), Non-Judicial Dispute Resolution (2019), International Business Law (2018), and Legal Consequences of Non-Performance of the Contract for International Sale of Goods (2016). He is also the author and co-author of more than 60 referred papers in indexed scientific journals and conference proceedings books. Current research interests: Business Law, Contract Law, Intellectual Property, Consumer Protection, Competition Law, and International Business Law. As a visiting professor, he has lectured at world-renowned universities in various countries including the USA, Italy, Greece, Slovenia, Croatia, Turkey, Lithuania, Bulgaria, Albania, Serbia and Kosovo.